Everybody doodles at some point and what they doodle relates to their mood and circumstances. That's where this idea came from: Mood+Doodling/Doodle= Moodling/Moodle. But the verb 'doodle' means to aimlessly do something, so I decided to add the word 'Mindful' so it creates a purpose: the term Mindful Moodling was born. Every day at 12pm I do a free online 90min workshop where together with others we create amazing works of art. These art pieces have another purpose and that is to get people to be creative, build confidence and allow development through this practice of Mindful Moodling. I demonstrate how it has allowed me to enjoy a wonderful time out, to be creative and just relax. Hope you too can join me on this creative journey!

Missee's
Pets

Building pets

Build your own Missee's Pets, all in their own theme. We've got Kitty Cat: so girly and fond of roses. Donny Dog: a little farmer with a basket to fill with fruits. Funny Bunny who's ready for a party with gifts, greeting card, balloon and party hat. Then there is Benny Bear, all into sweater wheater, complete with scarf and mittens. All these Pets are mixable, so they can swap clothes, accessories and even heads. But you can also reveal their secret identity with the Heroes Pack, with which you can turn each and every one of these Pets into a true superhero or knight in shining armor. Pets just love to play dress up!

This is an accessory set!

Missees' Man

Missees got a boyfriend!! And he is cute or cool or any type you want him to be. May we introduce you to Andrew and Brian? Build Missees' Man as you would build Missees: diecut his head and upperbody. Stamp on his eyes and mouths. And add on diecut hair. And, yes! He's got beards and a mustache. Dress him up for business with glasses and a tie. Or casual with a denim shirt. Or maybe give him a bowtie for a fancy night out with his Missees. You decide how to build your own Missees' Man.
